Mental Health

2017 Jack Tizard Memorial Conference and Lecture

*Public mental health for children and young people:
addressing mental health needs in schools and communities.*

Friday 16 June 2017 / 09.30 – 16.40 / London

Royal College of Physicians, 11 St Andrews Place, Regent's Park, London NW1 4LE

This one day conference brings an outstanding line up of speakers who are world renowned practitioners, clinicians, teachers and researchers addressing mental health needs in schools and communities. Their sessions will focus on topics that draw on up to date research and practice innovation on public mental health in schools including; partnerships between schools and Child and Adolescent Mental Health Services (CAMHS) dealing with mental health problems, enhancing and measuring wellbeing in children and young people, new trialling of a classroom management intervention, and ADHD interventions in schools.

The conference will include the ACAMH AGM, an all-day poster display and discussion opportunities. We welcome poster abstract submissions related to the meeting theme, as well as other topics related to child and adolescent mental health.

Speakers

Professor Lord Layard

Emeritus Professor of Economics at the London School of Economics, where he was until 2003 the founder-director of the Centre for Economic Performance. He now heads the Centre's Programme on Wellbeing. Since 2000 he has been a member of the House of Lords and is a keen advocate of making subjective wellbeing of the people the central objective of governments.

Professor Tamsin Ford

Professor of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry the University of Exeter Medical School. Tamsin is also honorary consultant child and adolescent psychiatrist at Devon Partnership Trust. Her session will focus on new findings from a large cluster randomised trial of a classroom management intervention.

Professor Eric Taylor

A leading child psychiatrist, he has been awarded the Ruane Prize for Outstanding Achievement in Child and Adolescent Psychiatric Research by NARSAD. His session will address new findings on ADHD interventions in schools.

Professor Miranda Wolpert

Director of the Evidence Based Practice Unit (EBPU) an academic unit, part of both University College London and the Anna Freud Centre committed to developing and disseminating the evidence base in relation to child mental health service provision. Her session will focus on the measurement of wellbeing in children and young people.

Jaime Smith and Steve Rippin

Jaime Smith, Head of Schools Engagement, Anna Freud National Centre for Children and Families and Steve Rippin, Assistant Head Teacher, Tapton School, Sheffield, will focus on their experiences of partnerships between schools and CAMHS, as part of the national Schools and Mental Health Link Pilot. This project, led by the Anna Freud Centre, is working with the Department for Education and NHS England to improve child mental health services in over 250 schools.

Catherine Roche

Catherine Roche has been Chief Executive at Place2Be since January 2014. She was Chief Operating Officer from 2003, instrumental in delivering organisational growth, before becoming Deputy CEO in 2013. Originally a secondary and adult education teacher, Catherine first became involved with Place2Be in 1996, giving pro bono advice and support while a strategic planning and organisational development specialist with KPMG Consulting.

Dr Anna Redfern

Dr Anna Redfern is a Clinical Psychologist at South London and the Maudsley NHS Foundation Trust. She is currently working on the CUES-Ed project a psycho-education programme designed to build resilience in primary school children using cognitive behaviour therapy strategies to manage difficult feelings and experiences.
